Introduction

For most people, a belief structure comes from something told to us by family, friends, formal education, research, or personal experience. We are quick to accept something as fact simply because it is the 'norm'. I have always been a serial entrepreneur since college, basically, fascinated with all facets of money generation. My story started with a thirst for reading and learning everything about trading stocks, options, and commodities. At the same time, my hobbies included poker and casino gaming. After 10 years, it was quite obvious that my casino gaming 'hobby' was far easier to master than the so-called mainstream trading and investment arena.

Since that time, I have written books, taught seminars, and developed conservative strategies that siphon profits out of another set of trading 'assets', you know them as roulette, craps, and baccarat. Make no mistake about it. There is no 'get rich scheme' in the casino or on Wall Street. The biggest difference is that in the casino we have an EXACT odds and payout structure that does not change daily due to economic reports, global crisis, or changing consumer interests. In my trading career, we learned that indicators and historical data points meant nothing if something unforeseen shifted the playing field overnight.

Over the years, we have perfected (and continue to move forward) using new strategy concepts, money management techniques, and technology that gives us a methodical approach. Patience, testing, and a well-conceived long-term plan are taught to every one of our students.

This might sound absurd or completely opposed to the normal belief that casino gaming is merely an 'entertainment' vehicle and nothing like Wall Street. This thought is exactly what the two industries want you to accept. The journey we take our students on is both enlightening and rewarding. If you are the type of person who does not accept the corporate illusions and parlor tricks regurgitated by society, you might find a path that few others acknowledge even exists.

This PDF contains a few mind-opening videos on the subject of generating consistent paychecks using casino games as a business asset. Read on.

What's Next?

I hope this little crack of the door has opened your eyes to an alternate cash flow opportunity that may be what you are looking for. Some of our students and alumni use our strategies, courses, and private coaching sessions as a full-fledged business model. However, other students just enjoy the ride while using the knowledge to have more fun on cruises and vacations.

This is not a one-size-fits-all approach. The main focus in regards to 'assets' or games will always be roulette, craps/bubble craps, and baccarat. We teach and highly suggest a 'toolbox' strategy diversification plan. No need for a 'holy grail' strategy whatsoever. You need a series of well-tested systems that must be rotated. This is combined with a tight win target for each strategy. The last piece of the puzzle is a long-term bankroll builder plan that methodically grows your bankroll and earnings consistently over a period of time.

If you are intrigued or curious, take the time to visit our website. We have hundreds of public videos, premium courses, and private coaching available.
